Firm's Director of First Impressions is Ready to Impress

Bobbi Albright joins the Arcus team

HARRISBURG, Pa. (June 5, 2007) – Arcus, a nationally recognized staffing, recruiting and direct placement firm, announced today the addition of Bobbi Albright as their new Director of First Impressions.

As Director of First Impressions, Bobbi is responsible for greeting all Arcus guests. A major function of this position is answering a multi-line, multi-office VOIP telephone system with a computerized Attendant Console. Additionally, Bobbi assists the sales and recruiting teams with resume formatting of candidates for client presentation, as well as with the preparation and management of client meetings. She is also involved in various aspects of event planning for the company.

“Bobbi is a fantastic addition to the Arcus team and we’re all happy to have her on board,” says R. Douglas Firestone, President and CEO of Arcus. “The Director of First Impressions is an important position at Arcus, and her energetic, outgoing and extremely pleasant demeanor will be vital as she has the first opportunity to make a great impression for any of our guests, whether it be on the phone or in person.”

Bobbi's previous experience includes being an Event Production Assistant for the Juniata College's Office of Conferences and Events, where she was responsible for collaborating with clients, administration, facilities and catering to ensure that events were well coordinated on all levels, as well as conducting follow up evaluations to gauge successes and areas of needed improvement. She also served as a Production Intern for the Altoona Curve baseball team and as a Public Relations Assistant for the Performing Artist Series.

Bobbi is a recent graduate of Juniata College, where she received her bachelor's degree in communication and event production.
