Account Management Staff Strengthened in Firm's Philadelphia Office
Vail joins Arcus with national experience and will assist with market expansion

HARRISBURG, Pa. (August 21, 2007) – Arcus, a nationally recognized staffing, recruiting and direct placement firm, recently announced the addition of Brian Vail as an Account Executive in its Philadelphia office.

As an Account Executive, Brian's responsibilities are to maintain and grow multiple accounts, conduct client and candidate meetings, build strong client relationships and to develop and implement strategic plans to foster long-term business relationships and partnerships. Arcus Account Executives are also in charge of increasing market share by proactively prospecting, pursuing and closing new staffing-based business and working closely with the recruiting staff to ensure that each candidate adequately meets each client's unique hiring needs.

Brian joins the team with more than 17 years of account management and recruiting experience, and is skilled at relationship management, strategic sales planning and market expansion. He has supported client's staffing needs across the technical, financial, interactive and manufacturing industries, and has been involved in the development of client and candidate profiles, position descriptions, sourcing and search strategies and has worked for one of the largest staffing firms in the country. He has also been a part of full lifecycle recruitment of information technology candidates for both contract and permanent positions.

"At Arcus, we place an emphasis on both client and consultant care and his solid experience and ability to build and strengthen relationships made him a great addition to our team," commented R. Douglas Firestone, President and CEO of Arcus.
