Business Development Efforts Strengthened at Local Firm

Marshall Rase joins the Arcus team as a Business Development Manager

HARRISBURG, Pa. (September 4, 2007) – Arcus, a nationally recognized staffing, recruiting and direct placement firm, recently announced the addition of Marshall Rase as a Business Development Manager for Arcus Technology, a division of the company focused on assisting its clients with finding and utilizing exceptional information technology talent.

As s Business Development Manager for Arcus Technology in the firm’s Harrisburg office, Marshall is responsible for working with the Vice President of Sales, Bill Morgan to develop and implement strategic plans to build and strengthen business relationships. Marshall will also be making daily telephone calls, meeting candidate face-to-face, presenting and closing deals, all in an effort to expand the company’s presence in the local market.

Marshall served as 1st Lieutenant – Contract Administrator in the U.S. Air Force. While in the service he was responsible for the purchasing of mission essential goods and services through the execution of contracts, purchase, and delivery orders. His most recent employment was as a sales specialist. He oversaw the daily administration of contracts and new business development. He was responsible for all aspects of proposal submission and writing and researched and evaluated all potential business opportunities. Marshall received his bachelor’s degree in Business Management from the University of Tampa, FL.

“Marshall’s great communication and leadership skills will be a great asset to Arcus.” said R. Doug Firestone, President and CEO of Arcus. “Marshall’s motivation and constant commitment to excellence make him a great addition to the Arcus Technology team, and will strengthen our efforts here.”
