Arcus Launches Its Own Version of the Apprenticeship Program

Despite a weak economy, local staffing company holds auditions to hire Apprentices

HARRISBURG, Pa. (December 15, 2008) – Arcus, a nationally recognized staffing, recruiting and direct placement firm, announced that today it is holding its very own version of TV's The Apprenticeship to attract talented, enthusiastic, go-getters to audition for a spot on the Arcus team that will help to launch their career.

Arcus has developed the Arcus Apprenticeship Program to train and educate intelligent, energetic professionals during a three-month intensive learning process. In addition to a rigorous, yet challenging and highly-rewarding on-the-job training program, each Arcus Apprentice will have the unique opportunity to learn the staffing industry, polish his or her sales and communications skills, and compete with fellow Apprenticeship team members to earn a coveted spot on the Arcus sales and recruiting team. Not only will these individuals be mentored and learn the tricks of our trade, but will interact with influential members of the community, complete projects and activities – as if they worked for The Donald – and ultimately, build a network and tool box of skills, and play a significant role in our nationally ranked organization. Successful Apprentices will also earn a $40K salary during the first year, as well as benefits.

Apprenticeship Program Auditions are being held today, Monday, December 15th at Four Points by Sheraton at 800 East Park Drive, Harrisburg, PA 17111, from 1 – 7 pm. Arcus is seeking candidates with a four year college degree in a business related field and 0-2 years of experience.

“As a staffing firm, we are in the business of finding and placing top talent. It's no different as we search for professionals to learn our own industry, land a role and play a significant impact on the success of Arcus,” said R. Douglas Firestone, President and CEO of Arcus. “Everywhere you look, you see messages and evidence of a weakened economy. We continue to buck that trend and seek to hire the best and brightest talent.”
